Debris was being cleared away today in the Delta county area following a storm that whipped out of the south yesterday afternoon accompanied by driving rain and gusts of wind up to 40 miles an hour.

FIRST SNOWFALL
Escanaba had its first snowfall of the season at 1:40 p. m. today, a brief flurry that was brought in on a blustering rain cloud.

High water levels on Green Bay and giant waves combined to flood sections of US-41 along the shore south of Gladstone. Driftwood and other debris tossed up by the waves was removed from the highway by snowplows. Branches were twisted from trees, motor vehicles were damaged in accidents, shore properties were flooded and small craft docks were battered or demolished, and shipping was delayed as a result of the storm.

Senate voted 77-11 today to wipe out the tax exemption on expense allowances of the president, vice president and members of Congress, effective Jan. 3, 1953.

The amendment, described by its sponsors as in effect a salary cut, was tacked on to a bill to increase taxes an estimated $5,500,000 a year. The bill calls for an 11 per cent boost in income taxes for most persons.

The amendment is not in the House-passed $7,200,000,000 tax increase bill and thus would be subject to action in conference between the two branches.

Friel Defends Management Of 1951 State Fair

Full Investigation Of Show Invited

DETROIT — (AP)—State Fair Manager James D. Friel, charging "fly-specking," today defended his management of the 1951 fair and invited a "complete investigation."

In a point for point answer to Martin's criticism Friel said he would welcome an investigation "provided it sets baseless rumors to rest for good."

Governor Williams has suggested a grand jury inquiry into the fair.

Criticism Answered
Martin took the fair management to task on a number of counts in a report yesterday, but he did not charge any criminal wrongdoing.

Friel took up each instance of criticism from Martin. Of one—involving the services of Friel's son-in-law in a fair capacity—Friel said that Martin "knew better" than to say what he did.

The auditor general said that the son-in-law, Richard VanTiem, had been promoted from operator of a hot dog stand in 1950 to theatrical director at the fair in 1951.

Actually, Friel said, the hot dog stand operator was Van Tiem's father, Van Tiem, he said, is a theater manager with five years experience.

Further, he said Van Tiem as fair theatrical director was paid $700, or only half that paid the man in the same job in 1950.

Friel described this as an economy on management's part. He said the 1951 director wouldn't come back unless he was paid more money.

Shortages Explained
On only two points did Friel concede to Martin.

He admitted a discrepancy of 9,502 in attendance figures compared to gate receipts. He said this was because mistaken gate-men put children through the "paid" turnstiles instead of free gates.

He admitted a $500 shortage in gate receipts for the fair date of (Continued on Page 6)

Mate Taken Off Ship In Storm

MUSKEGON—(AP)—Getting an injured second mate off a freighter in Lake Michigan turned out to be more than a routine run for a Coast Guard boat yesterday.

The boat narrowly escaped being battered to pieces on the breakwater of Muskegon harbor.

But the Coast Guard crew made the shelter of the harbor after a two hour battle in their crippled boat with heavy seas and high winds.

The Coast Guard boat was summoned by the skipper of the freighter Francis E. House after the second mate, John McDonald, of Lakewood, O., broke his collarbone in a fall from the bridge ladder.

The second mate suffered intense pain. So the skipper, Dan MacDermid, radioed the Coast Guard station here to get him ashore to a hospital.

Despite the foul weather the boat had no trouble getting to the freighter a mile off shore. The second mate was taken off on a stretcher.

But on the trip back to harbor, a water pump failed and the boat's engine heated up. The crew nursed along the engine at low speed. Heavy seas began pushing the boat towards the breakwater where the surf spumed 100 feet high. The crew finally maneuvered the boat towards the opening into the harbor and got the crippled craft to shore.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) proposed that members of Congress raise their own pay to $22,500. They now get $12,500 salary plus the $2,500 allowance. He withdrew this amendment when it was announced that Congressional committees are working on a separate salary-hiking bill for the lawmakers. Bridges then moved to kill Williams' amendment but lost, 45 to 34.

The president now gets a $50,000 tax-free allowance in addition to his $100,000 salary. The vice-president and speaker of the House have a $10,000 allowance plus their $30,000 salaries.

Woman Killed By Tavern Wall During Tornado

(By The Associated Press)

A tornado killed a woman in Western Michigan Wednesday night.

More freakish weather, with high winds and perhaps snow to the far north, was indicated today.

Damaging winds of high velocity hit Michigan generally last night, and the U. S. Weather Bureau said the blow would continue today.

The tornado's victim was Mrs. Edith Brackney, 67, of Flint, who was killed at Bitley in the collapse of a tavern's concrete wall.

Mrs. Brackney, on a visit to the Newaygo county village of Bitley, was crushed to death under debris of the wall collapse.

The tavern is owned by her daughter, Theresa, 46, and the latter's husband, Roy McQuarrie.

The tornado hit about 9 p. m., then blew off eastward. It left flattened barns and trees in its wake.

The recently built tavern is made of cement blocks. Despite this, its west wall was blown in.

Injured were Harry Langley, 67 and his son, Harry, Jr., 39, and Sidney Johnson, all of Bitley. None was seriously hurt.

Prices On Meat Go Up Monday

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The new and higher meat prices housewives will start paying next Monday may be announced late today by the Office of Price Stabilization.

The increase is expected to be one and a half to two cents a pound. It is being ordered to let wholesalers pass on to consumers the hike in wholesale prices authorized last week.

Meanwhile, the nationwide drive to enforce the beef price control program has turned up 222 specific charges of violations in 50 cities. Before the drive is over—it began Monday—the total is expected to run into the hundreds.

OPS said the 1,500 agents found violators in slaughter houses in more than half the cities where operations of meat packing and distributing plants were investigated. Court action will be taken against all alleged violators.

Farmer Who Halted Pipeline Convicted Of Court Contempt

HOWELL, Mich.—(AP)—Farmer Joseph Shimerly, who has been outstaying pipeline diggers who want to cross his land, was found guilty of contempt of court today.

Circuit Judge Willis Lyons suspended sentence until Oct. 6.

Lyons said a probate court hearing on whether or not the land should be condemned to allow the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. access would be held before Oct. 6 "and I hope we can get the whole business cleared up then."

Rossellini, who is noted for turning out his films fast, said shooting on the film—tentatively titled "Europe 1951"—will begin Oct. 20 in Rome. If it isn't ready for distribution this fall, the title will be changed to "Europe 1952."

It will be Miss Bergman's first film since "Stromboli" which she made in 1949 just before bearing Rossellini's son and her subsequent divorce from Dr. Peter Lindstrom. She and the Italian director were married later. Rossellini also directed "Stromboli."

Rossellini said the picture "will be an authentic, documentary picture of Europe's moral, political and social problems."

Twister Slashes Across Wisconsin Rural Areas; 7 Dead, Several Hurt

WAUPACA, Wis.—(AP)—The spiraling black finger of a tornado dotted a line of death and ruin across two rural areas in central Wisconsin yesterday, taking seven lives.

Due eastward across Lake Michigan from the state, a tornado struck the village of Bitley, Mich., at night and left one woman dead.

Bodies In Swamp
The lower part of Wisconsin's Waupaca county was ripped by a "roaring and terrifying" twister which killed six persons and injured at least three. Four of the victims, members of one family, were carried into a swamp a quarter of a mile from where the tornado engulfed them.

Then some 45 minutes later—4:30 p. m. (CST) and about 50 miles to the south—a funnel-shaped cloud hopped across a 10 mile path in Columbia county, killing a woman and injuring her three children by picking up their farm home and smashing it down 250 yards away. Seven others were reported injured. A deputy sheriff said buildings were crushed "like matchboxes."

Buildings Shattered
Splintered barns, sheds, silos and homes lined the paths of the tornadoes in Wisconsin, but there could be no accurate estimate of the heavy loss. Nor was there a count of the numerous livestock killed. The whirling cloud columns, which capped a day of general rain and high winds in the state, fortunately skirted small towns in the regions.

Howard Rasmussen, 35, his wife, Irene, and their children, Robert, 5, and Betty, 2, were cleaning chickens in their farm yard in the town of Waupaca when the tornado roared down on them. Their bodies were found in a swamp a quarter mile away.

Rasmussen's father, William, 65, was in the basement. He was struck on the head by a timber as the house collapsed around him. He died four hours later at a Waupaca hospital.

The other Waupaca county victim was Mrs. Frances Mellett of the town of Lebanon. She and her two children were swept away when the tornado leveled their farm home. Mrs. Mellett was found dead in a field. The children were in a nearby ditch, badly hurt.

C&NW Promotes John C. Stump

Was Master Mechanic At Escanaba

The promotion of John C. Stump to chief mechanical officer of the Chicago and North Western Railway System, effective October 16, was announced today by C. H. Longman, vice president in charge of operations. Stump, formerly assistant chief mechanical officer, will succeed George W. Bohannon who on October 16 will become manager of purchases and stores for The Pullman Company.

At the same time Longman announced the promotions also effective October 16 of George R. Anderson from superintendent, car department, to assistant chief mechanical officer; Walter C. Barrer, from assistant superintendent, car shops, to superintendent, car department; and Clarence P. Nelson from general foreman to assistant superintendent, car shops.

Began In 1912

Stump began his railroad career with the North Western in 1912 as a machinist at Eagle Grove, Iowa, later serving in various supervisory positions at Chadron, Neb., Green Bay, and New Butler, Wis., until 1926 when he was appointed master mechanic at Escanaba. In 1929, he was appointed assistant superintendent of motive power and machinery at Chicago; 1939, superintendent of motive power, western district; 1944, superintendent of motive power, northern district, and in 1948, assistant chief mechanical officer. His home is at 325 Home Avenue, Oak Park.

Started As Inspector

Anderson has been with the North Western since May, 1911, starting as a car inspector in Milwaukee. His entire service has been in the car department, becoming assistant superintendent in 1942 and superintendent in 1945. His home is at 135 North Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park.

Barrer first came to the North Western in 1915 as a car inspector. After military service in World War I, he returned to the railway in 1919 as a car inspector and held various positions becoming assistant foreman, Chicago Shops in 1925; general foreman, California avenue in 1942; district superintendent car maintenance in 1944, and assistant superintendent, car shops in 1945. His home is at 7944 Cressett Drive, Elmwood Park.

Nelson started as a clerk in the master car builder's office of the Chicago shops in 1916 and has held various positions in the car department, becoming assistant superintendent, car shops in 1942, and assistant superintendent, car department in 1945 until 1947 when he left the railway service for two years, returning in August of 1949 as general foreman, Chicago shops. His home is at 2948 North Menard, Chicago.

Rev. Dickson Is Instituted As St. Stephen's Rector

The Service of Institution of the Rev. Joseph S. Dickson as fifteenth rector of St. Stephen's church was a colorful and impressive occasion for a large congregation of parishioners and guests. Bishop Herman R. Page, D. D., of Marquette conducted the service and preached the sermon.

Features of the service included the Perambulations during which the wardens, Raymond G. Mulchahey and Frank W. Loos, led the clergy including Bishop Page, the Rev. James G. Ward, rector emeritus, and the Rev. Joseph S. Dickson, the new incumbent, to the baptismal font, the prayer desk, the lectern, the pulpit and the altar. At each point, a Scripture lesson was read by one of the wardens.

The keys of the parish were given to Rev. Dickson by Mr. Mulchahey, signifying the acceptance of the responsibilities as rector of the parish.

Bishop Page, in addressing the congregation, stated that being a member of the church is a unique privilege and a grave responsibility. The bishop said that the great need of church members is to keep their minds clear on the central purpose of the church which is to reveal God and to redeem the world.

The members of the Woman's Auxiliary and the St. Stephen's, St. Mary's and St. Catherine's Guilds provided refreshments and planned the reception in the Guild Hall following the ceremonies of Institution. They had the entire church attractively decorated with colored leaves and autumn flowers. Mrs. John C. Bennett was in charge of the reception and those who poured were Mrs. G. M. Mashek, Mrs. C. W. Malloch, Mrs. W. R. Smith, and Mrs. A. Ellsworth.

Members of Trinity Episcopal church, Gladstone, and St. Alban's Episcopal church, Manistiquie, and Bishop and Mrs. Herman R. Page of Marquette were guests of the parish for the evening.

Previously the meat regulations required every person slaughtering livestock to have the meat graded and marked. The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said today this placed an unnecessary burden on farmers, livestock raisers and others.

The new ruling is effective October 1.

Marvel Talks To Red Cross

Various Services Are Described

Disaster, military welfare, civilian defense, first aid, life saving and other important services of the American Red Cross were described in an interesting talk by Vern Marvel of Madison, Wis., at the meeting of the Delta county chapter at the House of Ludington last evening.

Dr. F. C. Anderson, chapter chairman, who presided at the meeting, presented William E. Miron with a certificate honoring him for meritorious service as Red Cross roll call chairman last year.

It was decided to hold regular meetings of the executive committee of the Red Cross on the third Tuesday of the month in the future.

Stationed At Truex
Marvel was associated with Red Cross work in Grand Rapids and St. Ignace before going to Korea last year with the military welfare service division as a field director. Following his being wounded in a Korean bombing he returned to this country and was assigned as military welfare director at Truex Field in Madison.

Reviewing the history of the Red Cross, Marvel said that the idea for this humanitarian organization developed from the Napoleonic wars. The International Red Cross was organized in Geneva in 1863. Marvel explained that the International Red Cross is "a neutral" organization, while the American Red Cross is distinctly American.

Has 3,786 Chapters
The American Red Cross is composed of 3,786 chapters, which carry on home service programs of different types and also have the responsibility of raising funds for the over-all program of the Red Cross.

Dwelling briefly on the various services of the Red Cross, Marvel mentioned that the Junior Red Cross was organized in 1917 as a supplementary educational program to provide an outlet for "patriotic feelings of American youth."

"The disaster service of the Red Cross started in the Michigan forest fires in the Thumb district," Marvel continued. "Clara Barton brought supplies to the victims of that disaster. The Red Cross is now engaged in giving relief in the Missouri valley floods. The Red Cross still has a nurse working among the explosion victims of Texas City."

Service In Korea
Life saving programs carried on by the Red Cross and other organizations in the past 20 years has reduced drownings to half despite the increased participation in water sports, Marvel said. He also told of the Red Cross participation in blood procurement, civilian defense and domestic and foreign military service.

"The Red Cross is the means of communications between the men in the armed forces and their families at home," Marvel said. He added that the Red Cross now has about 100 field welfare directors in Korea. A number of clubs have been established at troop concentration centers in Red Cross to provide coffee, doughnuts and other services. Red Cross workers visit the wounded and sick in hospitals in Korea, Japan and in this country.

CLAM TRAPPERS
Clams sometimes catch birds. Shore birds probing into sandy beaches occasionally find themselves trapped when concealed mollusks snap shut on their beak, and slow death ensues.

give a public accounting each year of their total income.

Mr. Truman said legislation along that line would help prevent "improper conduct" and "unfounded suspicions."

Open To Criticism

In a lengthy message, sent to the capital in the midst of a Senate inquiry into charges of political influence in government loans, the president said:

"In operations as large as those of our government today, with so much depending on official action in the congress and in the executive agencies, there are bound to be attempts by private citizens or special interest groups to gain their ends by illegal or improper means."

Mr. Truman said he would favor including "the principle that national party officials and employees be among those persons required to file annual statements."

The president's own party chairman, William M. Boyle, jr., was before the Senate's investigating subcommittee at the moment.

Specifically, the president recommended to congress the prompt enactment of a law—

"... which will require all full-time civilian presidential appointees, including members of the federal bench; all elected officers of the federal government, including members of the congress; and all other top officials and employees of the three branches of the government—say those receiving salaries of $10,000 or more, plus flag and general officers of the armed services—to file annually a statement of their total incomes, including amounts over and above their government salaries, and the sources of this outside income."

Gifts Included
Consideration should be given, the president said, to requirements that government employees making less than $10,000 should make such statements if their outside income exceeds $1,000 a year.

He added: "Some items which are not ordinarily counted as income, such as gifts and loans, should be included in the statements filed under this statute."

"Penalties for willful violation of this statute should be equivalent to those for violation of the laws relating to the filing of income tax returns."

Barber Shopper Concert Oct. 20

Escanaba Has Annual 'Harvest Of Harmony'

Top-rated quartets from Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan have been signed up for the "Harvest of Harmony", fourth annual concert of the Escanaba-Gladstone barber shop chorus, which will be staged Saturday night, Oct. 20, in the Oliver Memorial auditorium at Escanaba.

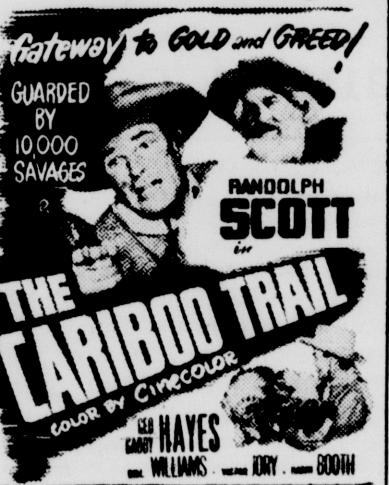

Final arrangements for the big song event are being rounded up by committees headed by Ken Thompson, general chairman, and the local singers, under the direction of Sam Ham, are working up a new repertoire for their part in the harmony program. Six outside quartets, in addition to the Escanaba quartet and chorus, will appear on the program, which will be spiced with comedy and novelty numbers.

Lowell Sundstrom, president of the local chapter, said that committee assignments will be announced to members at the regular rehearsal in the Eagles hall tonight. Ticket sales will start Thursday of next week.

Editorials—

High Relief Costs Not Caused By Bad Employment Situation

DELTA county's extremely high per capita cost for direct relief is not the result of a bad employment situation. In the month of July, Delta county led the entire state of Michigan in per capita expenditures for direct relief—$5.75 cents—but Delta county also produced the best employment record of the six largest counties in the Upper Peninsula during the same month.

In July 39% of the county's entire population—men, women and children—were gainfully employed, compared with only 34.1% in Marquette county, second highest of the six largest U. P. counties.

In per capita direct relief expenditures for July, Delta county's top ranking position was not even closely challenged. Houghton county was second with only 27.7 cents. By way of contrast, Menominee county spent only 5.4 cents on a per capita basis for direct relief. Menominee's percentage of gainfully employed to its entire population was only 24.6%.

These figures, taken directly from state records, apparently reflect unusually liberal standards of social welfare in Delta county.

Much emphasis has been placed on the fact that up to now Delta county has paid only 15% of its direct relief load and the state, with federal assistance, has paid the remaining 85%. Even on this basis, however, the cost to the county is among the highest in terms of dollars in the entire Upper Peninsula. And the remaining 85% is in no sense a handout because the Delta county residents pay state and federal taxes, too.

We have heard it said that the public should not be distressed by high welfare costs because the considerable amount of money being circulated in the county in one form of social welfare payments or another bolsters the economic strength of the county. In other words, social welfare payments under this theory have the same effect as the payroll of a substantial industry.

The viewpoint is a fallacious one, however, because it is a non-producing payroll. It tends to lower living standards, not

Moody Pleads For Nationwide Airlines

THE voice of Sen. Blair Moody has been added to those seeking certification by the federal government of Nationwide Air-line's route between the two peninsulas of Michigan.

Sen. Moody spoke in opposition to Wisconsin Central's petition for renewal of its certificate to operate mail and passenger air service from Chicago to the Upper Peninsula.

Opposition to Wisconsin Central's petition develops because it is not regarded as likely that the Civil Aeronautics board will certify both routes. If only one route will be approved, Sen. Moody's position, which coincides with that of a majority of the people of the Upper Peninsula, is that it is better to have direct service to Detroit than to Chicago.

Nationwide Airlines is operating now and has operated for several years without a federal franchise but it cannot continue the run indefinitely without federal aid. Its passenger service consistently has attracted greater volume than Wisconsin Central in the Upper Peninsula.

A major reason for this situation is the fact that railroad and bus services between the Peninsula and Chicago are excellent, but transportation connections to Detroit are poor, except for Nationwide Airlines' air route.

British Election Is Welcome News

PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE'S announcement of a new British election Oct. 25 is welcome news in America and all the free world. Since late February, 1950, Attlee's Labor government has operated under the severe handicap of a puny six-vote margin over its opposition.

Government under so shaky an advantage is hardly confident government of the sort needed to deal with the tremendous difficulties facing Britain.

It will be Britain's and the free world's gain if the new election returns either Attlee's party or Winston Churchill's Conservatives by a margin sufficiently wide to afford a real working margin in Parliament.

In 1950, the British electorate was at the crossroads, apparently unable really to choose between the two parties. Today public opinion polls show the Conservatives enjoying a substantial edge in popularity, but it is still not clear whether this advantage will translate itself into a comfortable lead in the House of Commons.

However it is to be, we'll know in six weeks. That's a nice thing about British elections: no long drawn-out campaigns.

Politicians

I am tired of politicians who can never take a stand, and who hem and haw whenever they would shake you by the hand. And I marvel at the way they leave so many things unsaid, though they lose their tons of words upon the public's battered head. I would trade a guy who brags of his ability to serve, for a gent who says but little and who votes with lots of nerve.

I'm against the leather-lunger who can make the heavens ring, for I add up all his comment and he doesn't say a thing. I deplore the blatant orator who beats upon his breast, and who says I can rely on him to choose the course that's best. For it often is the case that he is wanting time to stall, and the truth would seem to be he hasn't any course at all.

I would welcome simple statements from the people we elect, free of weasel words said only for political effect. I would like to have in office those who use some common sense, saying yes or no and not forever riding on the fence. I would like to vote for candidates who speak convictions true, and I'll bet that many other folks would like to do it too.

WASHINGTON — The problem of whether to prosecute the Republican governor of Iowa for income-tax evasion has been troubling the Democratic administration in Washington for months. At first the treasury debated whether it should send the case to the justice department, finally decided to treat the matter as routine. . .

The justice department is now giving Gov. William Beardsley a chance to come in and argue his case privately on or about October 10. This is a courtesy given every alleged tax defrauder before prosecution starts. . . What happened was that Governor Beardsley "forgot" to include income from his drugstore and his farm. Furthermore, his memory lapse continued for about four years. . . When the treasury agent asked Beardsley for his records, the governor replied that he was "too busy" — "come back later." . . Beardsley kept stalling and never did produce the records, so the agent went to the governor's bank where he found he had neglected to report about $50,000 over almost a four-year period. . . The treasury agent, in reporting to Washington, pointed out that the governor had made quite a few speeches about taxes, so was quite tax conscious.

GUARD FOR LE MAY

The man the Russians are supposed to fear most is Lieut. Gen. Curtis Le May, commander of the B-36 squadrons at Offutt Field, Nebr. He is the man slated to direct the dropping of the A-bomb over Moscow in case of war. . . The Air Force, therefore, has wanted to put a special guard on Le May, but he has objected. . . Since the assassination attempt on President Truman, however, Air Secretary Finletter has overruled Le May and put a special sentry at Offutt Field's officers' quarters with instructions to keep his eye on Le May.

REPUBLICAN SURVEY

A GOP scout friendly to Eisenhower has just finished a survey of Illinois, home bailiwick of the Chicago Tribune's Colonel McCormick and the results look good for Ike. . . Dope is that Werner Schroeder, long-time GOP national committeeman and staunch Tribune man, will be dropped. . . The colonel also appears to be losing out in Cook county (Chicago), with Simon Murray of Cicero likely to become the local Republican power. . . McCormick has been wanting to shove Ex-Sen. Curley Brooks down the organization's throat as governor, but won't succeed. Ex-Congressman William Stratton will probably be the candidate instead. However, even the Republicans agree that it won't be easy to defeat popular Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democrat. Next GOP survey for Eisenhower will be of Wisconsin.

BEHIND IRON CURTAIN

Reaction to freedom balloon leaflets from Czechoslovakia was a bit slow at first, but is now snowballing. Czechs are surreptitiously tacking leaflets up on bulletin boards—even on official government boards—nailing them on telegraph poles, and mimeographing them. . . One bunch of Czech Communists were blazing mad when each received a copy of the freedom-friendship message anonymously in the mail. . . The leaflets are making such inroads that the official Communist paper Tvorba devoted one-half its front page to a cartoon showing President Truman passing out balloons to Czech exiles. The exiles were Drs. Zenke, Majer and Peroutka, who were dressed in medieval armor as knights of yore and labeled "crusaders." . . The cartoon, of course, was aimed at two things: 1. To make the friendship balloons appear as a U. S. government operation; 2. To make the crusade for freedom appear as spurred by Czech exiles. . . Actually the crusade for freedom is backed by such widely assorted Americans as Dan Tobin of the Teamsters Union, Frank Altschul of Lehman Brothers, Dave Dubinsky of the Ladies' Garment Workers, and Harold Stassen of the University of Pennsylvania. . . Eleven million leaflets were dropped—enough for every third man, woman and child in Czechoslovakia.

MONKEY-WRENCH CONGRESS

The heat of the tax debate has coined a new name for this Congress—The Monkey Wrench Congress. . . First, Congress threw a monkey-wrench into the anti-inflation program—at which time many senators argued that they would control inflation later when the tax bill came around. . . Now the same senators have thrown a monkey wrench into the tax bill by opening up big loopholes for special interests. . . In other words, the senators kicked the lid off profits with one foot via the controls bill, then eased the taxes on these profits with the other. Nothing could help inflation more.

Ironwood—N. J. Bink of Escanaba was reelected president of the Upper Peninsula Bottlers association at the annual convention here.

Moscow — German troops storming the approaches to the Crimea have been mowed down by the thousands, and Red defenders still stand unbeaten outside Leningrad, Soviet war dispatches said today.

Escanaba—The Escanaba high school senior class elected the following officers: President, Bob Stephenson; vice president, Ruby Arnsen; treasurer, Joe Cleary; and secretary, Bill Baum.

Escanaba—Francis Farrell was elected prefect of the Student Spiritual Leadership Council of St. Joseph's high school.

Escanaba—Hugo T. Swanson, former Escanaba, superintendent of schools of Norway, is chairman of the Upper Peninsula district, Michigan Education association, which is holding its annual convention here this week.

Chicago—The story that Terry Druggan and Frank Lee paid $75,000 in an effort to escape penitentiary sentences for violating income tax laws was being investigated by the federal government today. U. Escanaba—Dr. and Mrs. John J. Walch went to Newberry, where they will be weekend guests at the home of Congressman and Mrs. Frank P. Bohn.

Tch, Tch, Don't You Know It's Rude to Peek?

Pilotless Bombers, 'Fantastic Weapons' Change Course Of Aviation Engineering

By C. C. PEARSON

President, Glenn L. Martin Co. (Written for NEA Service) BALTIMORE—(NEA) — Guided missiles, pilotless bombers, high altitude rockets and other members of the family of new weapons now coming to light are changing the whole course of aeronautical engineering research, practice and organization.

Guided missiles were the first aircraft to make full use of ultra-powerful jet and rocket power plants, the first to travel at supersonic speeds, and, there, the first to require instantaneously acting, automatic controls with reactions measured in thousandths of a second.

Since there could be no thinking human pilot at their controls, guided missiles were the first aircraft designed with electronic "brains" which controlled all functions.

This meant that the conventional design emphasis was reversed. Instead of the airframe and power plant receiving primary consideration, the design of those elements had to wait upon intense new development work in electronics and electro-mechanical research.

Meanwhile, the rise of jet power and trans-sonic flight has posed many of the same problems for the designers of what we call in today's military parlance, "inhabited" aircraft.

Without mechanical assistance, man is built to move at three miles an hour, to see and hear for only a few hundred yards, to react in large fractions of a second, and to live in an oxygen atmosphere at surface pressures and temperatures.

When he must fly in extreme temperatures and pressures at speeds faster than sound, make decisions in thousandths of a second, bomb unseen targets, shoot down enemy invaders in zero-zero weather or sink submerged submarines, man must have the aid of mechanical and electronic senses, muscles and nerves.

It is in meeting this necessity that the science of aeronautical engineering is undergoing a new evolution.

To develop such electro-mechanical aids and integrate them into aircraft and guided missiles for executive air defense and air travel—that is the challenge the aircraft industry is facing.

Our company made a start in this direction as early as 1945 when a trio of able young engineers was assigned as a "Special Weapons Group" within our Engineering Division.

Under the guidance of W. B. Bergen, now Vice President and Chief Engineer—one of that small original team—a new design philosophy called "Systems Engineering" has evolved during the last five years.

Today, Martin Engineers working under the Systems Engineering concept give simultaneous consideration to all details of the three major elements: airframe and power plant; electronic flight and navigational devices; military armament, or in the case of commercial aircraft, passenger and cargo facilities.

There is no point in having an airframe, for example, ready for flight while the electronic system, which may alter the airframe, is still only a gleam in the designer's eye. Martin development progress, therefore, is scheduled so that each element exerts its rightful influence on the design, and the end product is an efficient integration of all components.

The original small special weapons group at Martin now has been expanded to include many hundreds of engineers. From its efforts, in cooperation with the military services, have come the new Martin Matador B-61 pilotless bomber for the USAF; the Naval Research Laboratory's Viking rocket which recently set a world's altitude record for single-stage American-built rockets—135 miles above the earth; the Gorgon IV, highly successful prototype of the Navy's ram-jet target drones; and others still cloaked by military secrecy requirements.

Although these and other "fantastic" new weapons are now actualities new possibilities are plentiful.

That's why radar servo mechanisms, automatic and antenna experts—as well as aerodynamicists, structural engineers and electrical, hydraulic, armament and power plant installation specialists—are part of the well integrated engineering team it takes to do today's job and plan tomorrow's surprises.

Teen-Age Girl Recruits New Military Headache

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Teen-age girls being taken into the service in ever increasing numbers are causing the distaff brass some new headaches.

The minimum age of 18 for female recruits was recently made standard for all three services. It was lowered in hopes that the expansion in the women's branches from a total of 25,000 to the goal of 88,000 for the coming year could more easily be met. The World War II minimum age was 20.

Top female officers of the three services are very cautious about admitting anything is wrong with the way the teen-age girls are taking to the service. However, the enlisted gals themselves don't hesitate to tell their views on the subject.

"Girls 18 and 19 are too easily led astray in the service," says a WAC stationed in the Pentagon.

"They are too young to know what they want and when they find themselves in service for a long enlistment they're unhappy," explains a WAF from Andrews Air Force Base, Va.

"Before a girl goes into service she should have a few years of worldly experience so that when she does sign up she knows what she's in for," says a WAF at Bolling Field, Washington.

Almost without exception, every enlisted girl in the Air Force who was questioned at various bases thought that the minimum age should be 20 or 21. The teen-agers themselves in uniform believe this. And so do the older ones who have been in service since World War II.

The Navy hasn't had experience with the younger gals getting on actual duty assignments. The girls of 18 and 19 whom the Navy has just started taking in haven't finished basic training.

However, Capt. Joy Hancock, head of the WAVES, says she has alerted all Navy chaplains, and WAVE officers where the younger girls will be sent, to be on the alert for new problems which might arise when they get to their regular duty assignments.

The Army has been taking in teen-agers longer than any service. Based on this new experience, Col. Mary A. Hallaren, Director of the Women's Army Corps, explains:

"The basis for setting the minimum age at 18, instead of the wartime 20, is to permit a broader field of selection among eligible women, and to study any necessary adjustments in administration because of the inclusion of younger women. Results show that more planning for recreation, off-duty time, individual counseling and guidance is essential with the younger group."

One of the big complaints the women in the Air Force voice is against a new regulation which permits a girl to get out after only one year's service if she gets married. A female corporal stationed at Andrews Base explains: "The younger girls who suddenly decide they want to get out of the service are marrying the first man who comes along in order to escape through that new regulation. If this rule was changed to make the girls stay in whether they married or not, a lot of them would be saved from very unhappy marriages and they would soon learn to adjust to life in the Air Force."

There are no statistics on whether or not the younger girls actually break more rules or are more of a discipline problem than any other age group. About one half of all the girls being recruited today are below 20.

The controversy over whether to draft boys into the service was settled by letting them take boys 18½ after all other age groups were exhausted. It is generally assumed that girls mature earlier than boys. So the experts in the services feel that any current difficulties with the younger gals can be ironed out just as they seem to have been for the younger boys.

The state flower of both Washington and West Virginia is the rhododendron.

THOSE KIND WORDS — The Brown Swiss Bulletin for September in an article titled "The Upper Peninsula of Michigan—What Do We Have?" has some kind words to say about U. P. farmers in particular and the region in general.

For the enlightenment of city dwellers a Brown Swiss is not a sunburned yodeler from the land of the Alps. The Brown Swiss is a breed of dairy-beef cattle.

Our attention was directed to the article by Joe Steffl of near Cornell, who has a nice herd of about 67 Brown Swiss; two sons, Gerald and Lowell who are his partners in the farming enterprise; and a sincere admiration for a good dairy animal—Brown Swiss, of course.

The article also directs attention to the Upper Peninsula in word and picture—including photographs of winning grand champions at the U. P. State Fair.

"The fifteen counties in Michigan's Upper Peninsula are thought of by many as being comprised of only mines and timber; agriculturally, however, it is coming into attention rapidly during the past few years."

"In this agricultural development, livestock, dairy cattle in particular, are no small factor. These facts were evident at the recently held Upper Peninsula State Fair."

BROWN SWISS PIONEER—Joe Steffl has been farming in Delta county for 22 years—and for 21 years he has been raising Brown Swiss.

For 12 years he managed the Cleerman Land & Lumber company farm on county road 426 east of Cornell and then bought the 676-acre farm in 1941.

On June 15 of this year his sons, Gerald and Lowell, became partners in the business, which pleased Joe a great deal and assured the continuing success of one of the county's largest farms.

But we are getting ahead of the Brown Swiss story. The Cleerman Land & Lumber company had a herd of Holsteins when Joe took over as manager and these he replaced within the first year with Brown Swiss stock obtained from his brother, Frank Steffl, who has been raising Brown Swiss at Tilleda, Wis., since 1903.

"The herd of ours has been improved through the years with outstanding sires—and we're still improving," Joe told me.

The Steffl herd sire is a brother of Bow-herne Mighty Monarch, grand champion of the Illinois State Fair, and carries 20 per cent of the blood of Col. Harry J. B., a bull that brought $24,500 in breeders' sale.

HARDY AND HEALTHY—If we write in praise of the Brown Swiss it is only because Joe Steffl's enthusiasm is contagious. We do not intend to compare the merits of dairy breeds, and Joe said nothing derogatory about other breeds that have equally enthusiastic champions.

Citing the good points, however, is permitted. Brown Swiss is a hardy and healthy breed. Their ancestors came from the cool mountain slopes of Switzerland, a country noted for the fine quality of its dairy products. And the Brown Swiss fills a dual role, for besides milk production they also are a good beef animal. This latter advantage is no small factor in today's demand market for meat.

Today Brown Swiss is growing in popularity in the Upper Peninsula and in Delta county. Clayton Ford, Fulgens and Frank Falkies, Howard Logan, Gus and Paul Porath are among Brown Swiss breeders in the county—with Joe Steffl the pioneer.

The Steffls practice diversified farming. Their 212 acres in cultivation include 84 acres in grain, 67 acres in hay, 26 acres in potatoes, 23 acres in corn and about 12 acres in night pasture.

Farmers more and more are becoming convinced that Brown Swiss, like the automobile, is here to stay.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby Jr.

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH This column is repeatedly besieged by questions concerning the expression "used (or) use."

Of course there is no "sense" to it. Every word you use must make "sense"; this is another English idiom, and idioms, for the most part are untranslatable, generally illogical, and are often ungrammatical.

"I used to go" is fully sanctioned by all our dictionaries in the meaning of "was accustomed to go," and there is no reason to try to explain it by logic—it just is.

A caution, however: many people omit the "d" and write "I use to live on a farm"; but "use" without "d" in written English should be avoided. The meaning is defined in terms of past tense, you will note, as "was accustomed to." Therefore: I used to go there (I was accustomed in the past to go there).

I used to play the piano (I was accustomed to play in the past).

I am used to better jobs than this (I am accustomed to better jobs. . .).

Of course, in speaking, it is natural for the "d" of "used" and the "t" of "to" to merge into one sound, as: I yooz-to, or I yooz-to. Though this is permissible in speaking, the "d" should never be omitted in writing.

Also, there is no way to use "used" in a negative sense, as "I didn't use (used) to." This is the equivalent of saying "I did not use accustomed to," which is nonsense. Avoid also "I usen't to." There are no such contractions as "usen't" or "usedn't."

"Take it easy" is a grand safety slogan—to which car thieves should pay no attention.

Family Breakfast Idea Recommended For Better Health

A quick return to "family" breakfasts was urged by State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis.

"Far too many Michigan grown-ups are eating poor breakfasts or no breakfasts at all; far too many Michigan school children are starting their day underfed," the commissioner said, and added:

"If your family is used to slighting its breakfast, you don't know how good and how happy you can feel, until you regularly sit down together to steaming bowls of cereal topped with fresh fruit and milk, a plate of piping buttered toast and possibly a platter of scrambled eggs edged with crisp bacon.

"It may mean getting up 20 minutes earlier; it may mean setting the table, getting out the skillet and box of cereal the night before, but it's well worth it. You'll feel better all day; you'll be happier; you'll get more done and you'll be less susceptible to accident or illness.

"Teachers know that the child who eats a better breakfast has a better day, is more attentive, more alert and less irritable.

"Industrial studies have shown that the worker who eats a better breakfast is a better worker, gets more done early and keeps up good production, makes fewer mistakes and is less apt to have an accident. The same thing applies to office help and to the wife in the home.

"With fall and winter coming on, when you spend more time indoors, working longer hours, come in contact with more people, chances of exposure to illness greatly increase. Bodily resistance must be kept high. One of the chief ways to build resistance to illness is to be properly nourished, and you can't be properly nourished without a good breakfast."

Displaced Czech Tells Of Flight From Reds

Bernard Berg and Tomas Petr

Tomas Petr, 27, formerly of Loyovice, Czechoslovakia, his wife and two children, arrived last week from a displaced persons camp in Germany and are temporarily residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Berg, 1402 Michigan avenue, Gladstone.

Tomas Petr is the Czech spelling of his name but here in America, it'll probably be Thomas Peter for purposes of convenience.

Peter and his family fled Czechoslovakia one jump ahead of the Communist police in 1948. He had refused to join the Communist party and arrived home one night from work to find that the Reds had taken his furniture and his cow. Suspecting that they would be back that night to get him for forced labor, Peter and his family fled to Austria. They remained there in a displaced persons camp for two months and then went to the American zone in Germany.

Peter and his family were sponsored in America by the National Catholic Welfare Conference. They were in New York eight days when arrangements were made to send them to the Berg residence in Gladstone. Mrs. Berg, a German native who lived in Czechoslovakia at the outbreak of World War II, was a friend of Mrs. Peter before their respective marriages. Peter and his family are now learning the English language. Peter speaks German, Czech, Polish and some Russian and expects to speak satisfactory English in six months.

He was employed in a paper mill in Czechoslovakia before he was driven out by the Communists. He is seeking employment in this locality.

Artificial Rice Is Made Out Of Tapioca

NEW DELHI—(AP)—A demonstration plant for the experimental production of "artificial rice" is in operation under Government Auspices. Natural Resources and Scientific Research Minister Sri Prakasa stated in response to a question in parliament.

Prakasa said the plant processes 300 pounds of the synthetic food-grain daily. Establishment of a factory equipped to produce five to seven tons daily is "under consideration," Prakasa added. The artificial rice contains an estimated three times more starch than milled rice. Tapioca is the principal ingredient.

Italy To Be Freed Of Arms Limitations Imposed By Treaty

PARIS — (AP) — The United States, Britain and France will publish a joint declaration saying Italy "is no longer subject" to her peace treaty arms limitations. Russia was the fourth major power involved in imposing the treaty terms on Italy.

Diplomatic informants in Paris said the three western powers would say the declaration "changing circumstances" since the Italian treaty was written have made it no longer necessary to compel Italy to abide by certain treaty clauses.

FEVER BLANKS MEMORY

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—For a long time Pittsburgh's Hill City Band had a tuba player but no tuba for him to play. Now Director Howard McKinney is trying to find the person who has the tuba.

McKinney became so excited when a woman telephoned him to say she would donate a tuba to the band that he forgot to write down her name and address. Now McKinney and the tuba player have a new worry.

"What, oh what, is that woman's name?"

Colorful Attempt To Raise Dead Flops

RANGOON—(AP)—An Indian fakir (holy man) plunged a dagger repeatedly into his body without ill-effects to prove he was no fake after failing to raise a man from the dead. The attempt to bring the dead to life was made at Pegu 50 miles from here, when snake charmer Maung Tin was bitten fatally by one of his performing cobras.

It took place in a weird after-dusk ceremony at the Pegu cemetery after local officials permitted exhumation of the body. Flames of kerosene torches lit the graveyard as the dead snake charmer was lifted from his coffin. The fakir produced herbs from his voluminous robes and brewed a foul-smelling concoction.

Then he slowly circled the body muttering incantations. Suddenly he threw himself flat upon the dead man and blew into his nostrils. Mumbling guttural prayers, he forced open the snake charmer's mouth and poured the mixture down his throat. More than 200 people tensed as the fakir commanded the dead to rise. Nothing happened.

Rock Man Injured At Crystal Falls

CRYSTAL FALLS—Nine head of cattle, being transported from Mass to Escanaba, escaped injury when a large cattle truck, driven by Paul Ramseth, of Rock, rolled over after it was involved in a collision at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon near the three-way intersection of highway US-2 and the roads leading to the Tobin location and Amasa.

The cattle were taken to a near-by pasture from the truck, which was demolished.

As the result of the accident, Roderick Eckola, driver of a pick-up truck which collided with the heavier cattle truck, was given a ticket for reckless driving.

Failed To Stop
Chief of Police Frank Carlson and Sheriff Edward Sandri, who investigated, said Eckola, proceeding south on the Amasa road, failed to stop for an arterial sign. He was arraigned immediately before Justice William Trombley and paid $25 fine and $9.50 costs.

Ramseth, who was accompanied by a friend, Edward Birch, said he saw the pick-up truck as it entered the intersection but, because of the heavy load which his truck was carrying was unable to stop.

Ramseth was bruised and Eckola cut about the face and head. The latter was taken to Municipal hospital for treatment and then into court.

The pick-up truck was damaged to the extent of about $150.

based in neighboring Iraq and a brigade of parachute troops only a few hours away.

Iran's army is equipped with surplus American material and has been trained by a 77-man U. S. advisory mission under Maj. Gen. Vernon Evans.

The mission, however, was specifically prohibited by Iranian law from dealing with "tactical or strategic plans or operations against a foreign enemy."

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman today refused to say whether General Evans and the American mission is still in Iran.

U. S. INTERVENES

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States has appealed to Iran to cancel its order for expulsion of British oil experts from Abadan, the great Iranian refinery center.

The state department, disclosing this today, said the United States has advised both Iran and Britain that "it stands ready to render any assistance it can in helping them to find a settlement" of the Anglo-Iranian oil crisis.

President Truman expressed the American point of view in a personal message to British Prime Minister Attlee, which was delivered through the American embassy at London today. It replied to an Attlee appeal to the president yesterday.

The state department said the American views were given to Iran by Ambassador Loy Henderson who has been in contact with Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

It was Mossadegh's order of two days ago that the 300 British oil men remaining at Abadan must either leave next Thursday or be thrown out which brought the Anglo-Iranian crisis over oil nationalization to its present high point of tension.

The British government has been considering two extremes—either send in troops to protect and support the oil experts or submit to the Iranian ultimatum for their removal.

Guardsmen Swept Off Pier At Grand Haven; Battle Angry Waves

GRAND HAVEN, Mich.—(AP) — Two Coast Guardsmen were washed off the south pier by gale-whipped waves today but both managed to reach shore safely, one after battling waves for an hour.

Dale Rippert and Hilly Stephens, manning the fog horn station at the harbor entrance, had sought to make it to shore after their food and water ran out.

Huge waves driven by winds hitting 72 miles an hour in gusts had been breaking over the pier since early yesterday.

Rippert and Stephens donned life jackets before starting the treacherous walk. They had gone only a short distance when the waves swept them off their feet and into Lake Michigan.

Rippert was able to regain the pier but Stephens drifted nearly an hour in the churning lake before he was washed ashore.

for military service, he should not be required to perform work in lieu of induction."

4. Spread the draft more evenly through age groups to prevent too-heavy call-up of young men. Renfro said in some cases draft boards have dipped deeply into younger age groups while pools of older men were available.

5. Lower physical standards to those of January 1945—the lowest point in World War II—and reduce mental requirements.

6. Provide for calling up doctors according to length of prior military service rather than by age. Those who have served the shortest period would be called first.

7. Add "pharmacy, chiropractic, or chiropody" to "medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, osteopathy, optometry" in the provisions for special consideration to students in the healing arts.

Student Tests Dec. 13
Selective service also announced dates for two new qualification tests for college students who want to be deferred from the draft. Students who score 70 or better in such tests may be considered for deferment.

First tests will be given Dec. 13, primarily for those students whose academic year ends next January. The second will be given April 24. Applications for the first test must be postmarked no later than Nov. 5, and for the second not later than March 10.

Application forms can be obtained from all local draft boards within a week. The tests themselves will be given at more than 1,000 centers over the country by the educational testing service, Princeton, N. J. and scores will be mailed direct to local draft board.

House Doesn't Like Sen. Moody's Speech

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House today asked the Senate to "take appropriate action" against Senator Moody (D-Mich) for some remarks by Moody about Rep. Meader (R-Mich).

Moody, in a Senate speech yesterday, called Meader's criticism of Democratic fund raising activities in Michigan a "political smear."

Today, the House approved by a voice vote a resolution terminating Moody's statements "improper, unparliamentary and a reflection" on Meader's character.

The resolution was introduced by Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich). The "appropriate action" it proposes would be the expunging from the records of the Senate, of Moody's language to which exception was taken, Hoffman said.

Brain Specialist Is Mental Case

MUSKOGEE, Okla. — (AP) — A brilliant brain specialist was in a hospital for the insane today at his wife's request.

Dr. Harry E. Hewitt, Jr., 41, was committed yesterday to Central State hospital at Norman in a straitjacket following a violent struggle with four deputies in his office.

The action came just three weeks after dismissal of first degree manslaughter charges filed against the highly regarded physician in connection with the death Aug. 9 of a woman patient.

Hewitt was accused of drunkenly administering drugs to Mrs. Allene Shuler for a headache. The doctor, Tex., woman collapsed and died within 24 hours after treatment.

At his preliminary hearing in city court Sept. 5, Hewitt testified Mrs. Shuler died of a stroke. He denied being drunk.

The case was dismissed by Judge J. F. Beavers after five doctors refused to venture a professional guess as to cause of death.

Storm Does Tricks In Delta County; Shoreline Pounded

ity of Washington Island.

Riding out the storm in the harbor this morning were the Al-gosteel, which cleared last night at 8 p. m. and returned at 8 a. m.; the Chacornac, whose loading was completed last night; and the Odratic, loaded out at 11:50 p. m. yesterday.

The Str. Williamsport was filled with ore at 8 p. m. last night and was still at dock today for shelter.

Shoreline Pounded

Under atmospheric pressure and high wind the already high water of Green Bay raised an estimated 12 to 18 inches yesterday afternoon and then receded.

Small craft docks at Escanaba and Gladstone were pounded by giant waves, causing some damage. On the Escanaba south bay shore the waves ate into beaches, tore away some small boat docks, and scattered logs and debris many feet inland.

At Gladstone a small boat floated into the ball field near the park, and hundreds of sea gulls gathered to consume minnows tossed up by the waves and trapped in pools on the shore.

Temperature Tumbles

The storm was reminiscent of the "big blow" on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1940, when winds of 70 miles an hour battered ships and turned Lake Michigan into a trap for a dozen ships that were driven ashore.

S. E. Decker, meteorologist at the U. S. Weather Bureau office in Escanaba, today said 1.08 inches of rain fell during the storm. The strong south wind rolled air of higher temperatures into the area, with the thermometer reading going up to 63 degrees at 9:30 o'clock last night.

The mercury then took a slide as the wind shifted westerly, falling to 41 degrees at 8:30 a. m. today.

More freakish weather, with high, cold winds and snow, blew into parts of the Upper Peninsula today. Houghton, Ironwood and Kinross air base near the Soo reported snow.

A Canadian Pacific freight train ran into a washout 51 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie, tying up traffic today. The washout was caused by Lake Huron waters blown over the tracks.

Baby Electrocuted

Al-an McCrary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCrary, was found lying by a radio plug which had been pulled from a floor socket. His mouth was burned.

Parents Defend Dating Teacher

Group To Report Here October 1

AMBOY, Ill.—(AP)—Stanley W. Gibson, high school teacher who was fired for dating a blonde senior honor student, has the support of the girl's parents in his legal battle to regain his job.

The parents of the girl, Joyce Underhill, 17, will testify Saturday at the third session of the public hearing being held by the school board on Gibson's protest against his dismissal.

Gibson, 31 and divorced, was dismissed from his teaching post for dating Miss Underhill last spring. She was valedictorian of the 1951 graduating class and now is a freshman at the University of Illinois.

Gibson has testified at the public hearing that he had from 25 to 50 dates with Miss Underhill, who wears his fraternity pin. They are not engaged, Gibson said.

Miss Underhill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Underhill, told newsmen yesterday they approved the dating between their daughter and Gibson.

Townpeople at yesterday's hearing hooted and jeered when board members and the school's dean of girls testified they did not approve of Gibson dating Miss Underhill when she was a student.

Mayors Get Gavels

JACKSON—(AP)—Mayor Jams N. House, whose hobby is woodworking, prizes a gavel sent him recently by Rep. George Meader (R-Mich). It was made from material salvaged during the renovation of the White House. The mayors of Ann Arbor, Monroe, Adrian and Ypsilanti also are going to get gavels from Meader.

Snow At Ironwood

IRONWOOD, Mich.—(AP)—Two inches of snow fell in this area last night, driven by winds which hit 60 miles an hour in gusts. A low temperature mark of 33 degrees accompanied the wintry scene. The snow disappeared fast this morning. It was by far the earliest snow her in many years.

In Blinding Rain

Mrs. Alice McGuire, 32, was killed when the twister swooped down on her Columbia county farm home four miles west of Randolph. Her three children, ages two, three and four, were not seriously hurt. One viewer of the wrecked McGuire house said it was reduced to "kindling wood."

The Columbia county tornado was preceded by rain but blinding rain accompanied the Waupaca county twister and, as a result, many witnesses said they could not see the funnel-shaped cloud. What they did see was a "terrifying black cloud spewing debris ahead of it and roaring like a freight train."

Both tornadoes swept out of the southwest and passed in a northeasterly direction. In Waupaca county the tornado hopped and skipped across a line 20 miles long and about one quarter of a mile wide. To the south the spiraling cloud finger touched at intervals in a 15-mile path 100 yards wide on the average.

King Stronger, Bulletin Says

LONDON — (AP)—King George's doctors said today he is stronger and his appetite is improving. Their morning bulletin, the eighth since a serious lung operation Sunday, said:

"After a better night the King is stronger, his appetite is improving and progress continues." Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will leave for their postponed Canadian tour by air on Oct. 7, they announced today. They will begin carrying out their tour schedule at Quebec on Oct. 9.

This means there will be only a one week delay caused by postponement of the trip because of the King's serious illness. They had originally planned to arrive in Quebec next Tuesday.

Torch River Claims They Beat Houghton For First Snowfall

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich.—(AP)—If snow falls in Michigan today as forecast it will not be the first of the season.

Torch River residents claim it snowed there Sunday, and are disputing Houghton's claim of the first snowfall.

"We had a light blanket Sunday," one Torch River man beamed, and then complained: "But no one thought anything about it until Houghton came up a day or so later with a claim it got the first snowfall. By that time our proof was gone—melted."

Songhyon is a war-scarred village six miles southeast of Kaesong's outskirts. It is one mile south of the Red outpost at Panmunjom. Ridgway described it as "approximately midway between the battle lines."

The supreme commander's message said, "It would, of course, be agreed by both sides that this meeting place would be kept free of armed troops and that both sides would abstain from any hostile act or exercise of authority over members of the other side in their passage to this point or while they are here."

Gadgets Now Test Your Ability To Drive Auto

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Pardon me while I blow my own horn. It turns out that I'm above average as a driver, psychophysically at least.

Being of a co-operative guinea pig nature, I volunteered to try a collection of fancy testing devices designed to see if you have the physical ability to make a good driver. The Greater New York Safety Council, putting on the show, calls the test a psychophysical one. They tested my eyes, reaction time — everything but my clutch and transmission.

The first gadget was sort of a stereopicon with big ideas. You look through it and the operator puts some cards in front of you. On one, for example, there is a line of numbers, from one through 15. An arrow points to one of them.

"What number is the arrow pointing to?" asked the operator. It was halfway between eight and nine, my eyes told me.

"OK, you're normal," said the operator. He explained that he was testing my "lateral balance," and that if I had said anything but eight, nine or 10, I would have been doubtful or unsatisfactory. It was a big relief to know my "lateral balance" was OK.

Other cards tested my vertical balance, fusion, color perception and usable vision. I was normal on all. Which was pleasant, as it's only natural to be worried about one's fusion. Especially if you don't even know you've got one.

Revival Of 2-a-Day Postal Deliveries Demanded By AFL

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The AFL convention wants twice-daily postal deliveries restored.

It so voted after hearing William C. Doherty, head of the National Letter Carriers Association, renew his feud with the postmaster general on the convention floor.

Doherty last week called for the resignation of Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson. The latter retorted that he had no wish to engage in a "gutter fight with an egocentric person."

The letter carriers' chief, a vice president of the AFL, told the convention Donaldson's remarks were "intemperate." He added: "That part of his statement which places the postal curtailment responsibility upon congress must be challenged." Doherty said the orders reducing postal deliveries to one a day were issued April 17, 1950, by Donaldson "solely on his own responsibility."

"Since April 17, 1950, the people of America have not been getting good postal service and the full responsibility for the postal breakdown must be placed squarely upon the shoulders of the postmaster general who initiated the false-economy reduction of postal service"

Texan Gets Estate Of Murdered Wife, Then Electric Chair

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. — (AP) — Steve Mitchell, 47, who was awarded the $40,000 estate of the wife he murdered, was electrocuted Tuesday at the Texas prison. Mitchell walked into the death chamber at 12:02 a. m. (CST). He received the first shock at 12:06 and was pronounced dead at 12:08.

Before he sat down in the electric chair, Warden Emmett Moore asked Mitchell, "Do you have anything to say, Steve?"

"No sir, I don't have anything to say," the condemned man replied.

Probate Judge Clem McClelland ruled in Houston today that Mitchell was the legal heir to his murdered wife's estate.

Black Sapphire Bust Of Lincoln Worth $250,000

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Abraham Lincoln's features have been carved in perpetuity in a 1,318-carat sapphire valued at $250,000 and owned by James and Harry Kazanjian of Los Angeles.

The "Lincoln in sapphire" has just been completed in black with a few indistinguishable touches of deep translucent blue. It was from one of the five largest known sapphires in existence.

Three of the other gems will be carved during two years of work carved likewise, probably into the likenesses of Andrew Jackson, George Washington and Henry Ford, to provide a series of "great Americans in sapphire." The sapphire bust of Lincoln is not for sale. It was carved by Norman Maness, steel engraver and die maker.

The fifth of the five large gems, "the Star of Queensland," was polished into a star sapphire and is on tour of the United States.

The sapphire, of the corundum family, ranks second to the diamond in hardness, and Maness used diamond grit to shape the head and features. He employed tiny wheels 1/64 inch in diameter for the finishing touches.

The Kazanjian brothers are of Armenian ancestry and, prospering in this country, wished to do something worthwhile with their spectacular gems, which they obtained from Queensland. They say Lincoln and Jackson always have been their heroes and that Ford stands as the symbol of initiative.

MICHIGAN'S NEW STRAITS FERRY—Michigan state highway department's newest, largest and most powerful ferry, the ice-breaker Vacationland, will go into service at the Straits about Nov. 15, says Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. The artist's conception of the $4,500,000 vessel whose construction is now being completed at River Rouge, Mich., shows a double end loading ship capable of transporting 150 vehicles and 650 passengers. The 360-foot long Vacationland will be in service the year-around, augmenting the present four smaller ships and maintaining traffic throughout the winter across the Straits. A new dock at St. Ignace and new slips at Mackinaw city were built to accommodate the new ship.

Party Thrower Helped Others

Money Wasn't All Wasted In Venice

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—There seems to be a lot of high moral indignation rife amongst the yeomanry concerning that big, expensive shindig the Mexican fellow threw in the Palazzo in Venice. Party cost $50,000 and was attended by most of the titled, social and movie prom trotters who infest Europe in the summer season.

The costume ball was paid for by Carlos de Beistegui Y Iturbide, a Mexican with nothing but money that comes from his family's silver mines. He tossed his party in an ancient palace, which he had fixed up fancy at a cost of about $750,000. Everybody from the Aga Khan to Barbara Hutton showed, to drink that old champagne and kick up the heels.

His Own Money

I guess my moral sense is somewhat stunted, but I can't see anything wrong with pitching a party if it's your dough, no matter what it costs. Fifty thousand is a pretty steep tab, but a man's money is his own and if he wishes to set fire to it it is his privilege if he has the price of the match.

Concerning the wastage of dough, no money that goes into party-throwing is ever wasted. The poor and medium well-offs profit from spendthriftiness, just about as much as if you'd consigned the scratch to a program of good works.

Behind the squandering of 50 grand for an evening's revelry is the cold fact that the money went to a great many people who need money to live. Indirectly the wine charges were spread among the grape growers, the grape pickers, the grape stompers, the bottlers, the glass manufacturers who make the bottles, the wholesalers and the retailers, all of whom employ people.

Helped Farmers

The money that went into food reached all the way down to the farmers, and passed through the hands of everyone who had to do with processing and packing of the food. The fancy costumes put indirect money into the hands of the little seamstresses who stitch the hems and sew on the buttons. The end product of a piece of cloth passes through innumerable industrial stages, all employing people, before it finds its way to the perfumed frame of a fancy lady with a mask on.

I do not see how even the Communists can complain about the scattering of that much spendable coin among the deserving poor and the deserving tradespeople. They might deplore the fact that a man has so much that he can afford a big rumpus like that, but they must commend him for spreading it round among the proletariat.

Actually, the fellow was a piker alongside some of the lavish livings of our own old tycoons, who really threw the stuff up for grabs, and not a deal worse than a combination of some of the free loads that are thrown around Washington for the purpose of dazzling the right folks who might

Woman Doctor Leads Fight As India Battles Its Child Health Problem

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA)—She had presented a formally engraved calling card that read: "Dr. (Miss) Sharyu Pandit." But it was the woman, not the scientist, that came to the surface when she explained why she was in America. "Forty per cent of all children in India die before they reach ten," she said, with a solemn look on her round face. "That is too much. That shouldn't be."

Because of that cold statistic, Dr. Pandit is just completing a nation-wide tour to study maternal and child care here. She has been here since December. On her way back to India, she'll stop off at many countries in Europe to continue her studies.

Since World War II, she explained, the maternal and child care situation in India has improved. But it's a painfully slow process.

"You know," she said, "in India there is one doctor for every 6000 people, and only one mid-wife for 60,000 people. Four out of every five births are unattended. We have a long way to go."

But a start has been made, through international organizations like the World Health Organization and the UN International Children's Emergency Fund. Dr. Pandit, who is an adviser on maternity and child health to India's directorate-general of health services, has had a large hand in setting up the aid programs.

The keynote of all help, Dr. Pandit feels, should be training. Lack of pre-natal care, in her opinion, is the chief reason for the high infant mortality rate, although lack of proper nutrition is also vital. But it is the almost complete absence of education for prospective mothers that does most of the damage.

To fill the void, UNICEF has earmarked half of its $3,421,000 allocation to India for training programs. Almost $1,000,000 will go to the All-India Institute in Calcutta, which will train public health nurses and maternal and child care experts. The Indian Government is matching UNICEF funds in this project.

The Institute is training people from all over Asia not merely India, because the problem is widespread. Another $300,000 is going for a program to train rural health officers. This is co-sponsored by India and the WHO. More funds are going to equip properly 200 health centers maintained by India and the Indian Red Cross. These centers are staffed by women "health visitors" who go to homes and train expectant mothers in infant care.

UNICEF funds, for equipping these scattered centers, are spent on everything from nailbrushes to blood pressure machines. One big need, Dr. Pandit says, is for mid-wives' maternity bags. These cost about $15, contain everything a practicing mid-wife needs, and the native women strap them on their backs as they make their calls.

Dr. Pandit emphasizes that the world groups don't confine their help to the one problem. They aid in combating tuberculosis, malnutrition, polio, venereal diseases and other health problems. But she is most concerned with maternal and child care.

In areas where health aid has been most widespread, she has noticed great improvement. The death-rate of infants, in those areas, has been cut from 176 per 1000 births to around 100.

Dr. Pandit doesn't think the decrease in the infant death rate will result in a disastrous population rise in already over-populated India.

"After all," she says, "if you had a rose bush, you'd rather have two beautiful, healthy roses than a bush crowded with sickly, straggly flowers. Same way with people—if they can have two or three healthy children, they won't want lots of children. As the health improves, the birth rate will decline."

Nepal Gets Two Plane 'Air Force'

KHATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—This tiny kingdom now has an air force. It consists of two reconditioned Douglas Dakotas (C-47) twin-engine transports purchased from India at a cost of $105,000.

The planes are the first owned by Nepal, which previously depended on chartered planes from Indian government planes for aerial communication with the outside world.

DR. SHARYU PANDIT: As health improves, birth rate declines.

Visually Handicapped Children Trained

NEW YORK (AP)—There are about 1,400 children in New York City schools who must use special educational facilities because their sight is so poor that they cannot read ordinary textbooks. However, these partially sighted children are not segregated in special classes for the entire school day, Mrs. Dorothea di Pretoro, head of New York City's Bureau for Education of Visually Handicapped, says. Partially seeing children are separated from their normal-sighted school mates only when they must do close work with their eyes.

Iron Mountain Stores To Open Monday Evenings

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. — Starting Monday, Oct. 1, several Iron Mountain merchants, in a trial-plan aimed at better service to shoppers and also at stimulating first-of-the-week business, will open at noon on Mondays and remain open until 9 p. m., continuing every Monday through the Christmas shopping period, it was decided at a dinner-meeting at the Iron Mountain Retail Merchants association in the Chipewake club.

Proponents of the Monday night opening emphasized that residents of this community and the surrounding areas, through the Monday night shopping schedule, would be given an opportunity for a more leisurely selection of merchandise and a better opportunity to obtain the desired items. It was brought out, also, that while the regular Friday night opening attracts considerable business, it is frequently necessary to hire special clerks who, in that capacity, may not always be fully acquainted with the merchandise.

In other words, the members made clear, a principal objective is better service to the customer. Also the Monday schedule, they said, would in no way affect the 8 p. m. closing on Friday.

Princeton Head Raps College Deferment

By HAROLD W. DODDS
President, Princeton University
Distributed by NEA Service
PRINCETON, N. J. (NEA)—As one who has consistently believed that universal military training and service is essential in the present world situation, I naturally view the proposal for almost blanket deferment of college students as wrong for the nation and detrimental to the best interests of the colleges in the long run.

The President's Executive Order places college students, as such, in a preferred position which entirely misrepresents their basic patriotism and willingness to serve.

On the other hand, the proposal to defer students in subjects essential to the defense effort is sound and should be preserved. The impact on the morale of troops now in service of any program of college deferment beyond the essential needs is obvious.

I yield to no one in the importance I attribute to the national need for young men broadly educated in the fields of the humanities and social sciences.

If, as I hope, a system of universal military training is adopted promptly, these values need suffer no essential loss once that system is established, and the rotation of men through the armed services permits a return of the college population to normal.

To be sure, the period of transition will create the gravest difficulties in the educational world. But I believe that these difficulties can be resolved without resort to a deferment policy so broad and so little selective as the Executive Order contemplates.

College students have suffered greatly from the strains imposed by the temporizing in Washington and continued confusion over the Government's plans for their immediate future. They can and will adjust patriotically to national needs.

As one close to the strains they have been under and sympathetic to them, I hope that the present confusion will quickly be resolved in the interest of the principle of share and share alike in posts in which the individual's service will count for the most.

After all, this is what the college men want. And I believe it preferable to protecting them against interruption of their college careers, which would react adversely upon their influence as future leaders and the long time values of the subjects they are studying.

Youth In Prague Receive Warning

PRAGUE—(AP)—Official policy in the Czechoslovak Union of Youth is that "the old undignified bourgeois attitude toward girls must be ruthlessly suppressed."

"Youth union groups," a Union edict also declared, "must also combat eccentric American dances such as the samba, which express the general degeneration of the culture and morals of the capitalist states."

The samba is still popular in Czechoslovakia despite the efforts of the union and other cultural reformers.

Keep Eye On Your Children To Safeguard Their Vision

Invitation to tragedy: The little girl standing by the target is equally a good target for the arrow her inexpert friend is about to shoot. Such mishaps cause 85,000 eye injuries to children annually.

By GALE DUGAS, NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—When the small boy had finished filling the glass jar with sand, he fished a five-inch firecracker from his hip pocket and stuck it into the top of the jar.

"Light the cracker and put the top back on the jar, Eddie," one of the boys who was watching said. "Then heave the jar up in the air as high as you can and listen for the explosion. It'll knock you off your feet."

Eddie struck a match, lit the firecracker fuse and grabbed for the top of the jar. His hands slipped.

"Eddie! Throw it! Quick!" yelled one of the boys. Eddie wasn't quick enough. The glass jar exploded at his feet, showering fragments of glass into his face. And Eddie is blind for life.

Every year, more than a thousand small boys like Eddie lose the sight of one or both eyes through such accidents. And another 85,000 children suffer eye injuries.

About ninety per cent of all such accidents could be prevented, according to Dr. Franklin M. Foote, executive director of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

"Sticks and stones, firecrackers, BB guns and sling shots are not toys," Dr. Foote says. "The parents who let their children play with such things are courting trouble. The best way to prevent eye accidents among children is to keep an eye—literally—on them. It's during unsupervised play, after school, that most children suffer eye injuries."

When parents go shopping for toys, they should remember to check the safety features as well as the entertainment value of each purchase, according to Dr. Foote. "Be sure that the toy cannot break into jagged pieces that could injure an eye," Dr. Foote cautions.

Czechs Who Escaped By Train Promised Homes In Canada

NEW YORK—(AP)—Homes in Canada will be found for the Czech engineer and 31 passengers who highballed a train through the Iron Curtain to freedom in Germany.

Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, chairman of the Iron Curtain refugee campaign, said that the Canadian immigration authorities would screen the group at a camp in Ludwigsburg, Germany.

The Czechs will be sponsored by the International Rescue committee, a private American organization.

In their dramatic dash, the Czechs commandeered the train and stood guard at strategic points in the cars, ready to shoot it out if any one interfered. U. S. authorities permitted a number of passengers to return to Czechoslovakia at their own request.

In this age group can hardly stow them away in barrels, they can watch them carefully to be sure that the chance for tragedy is held to a minimum.

Girl Scout Troop Eight Has Big Year

At an election of officers for the coming year Ann Fawcett was elected president, Frederica Sensiba, secretary and Sandy Williams, treasurer. Officers who served for the past year were Frederica Sensiba, president, Barbara Boyce, secretary and Lois Olsen, treasurer.

Badges and ranks completed and presented during the year were:

Headlighter Is Caught, Fined

But Goes To Jail For Peddling Fish

Kenneth Tatrow, 25, Garden, paid a fine of $25 and costs of $7.80 yesterday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of using an artificial light in an effort to kill deer following arraignment before Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson Wednesday.

Tatrow was arrested by Conservation Officers Hugh Fisher of Nahma and Albert Lataciewicz of Munising Tuesday night near Fayette.

In an effort to escape the officers he jumped from the rear of a pickup truck with the rifle and light, landed on a partially fallen barbed wire fence and pitched forward striking his head on a stone which knocked him out.

The officers found him unconscious on the ground with the light and rifle nearby some 15 minutes after he had jumped and after they had searched a nearby barn and hay stack in which they thought he had hidden.

Things didn't break right at all for Tatrow. After he had paid his fine he was picked up by Conservation Officers from district headquarters at Escanaba for failure to pay a fine of $5.00 and costs of $7.80 imposed on Feb. 13, 1950 for peddling fish without a license.

Unable to pay it he was committed to the county jail for 7 days. Legal action to confiscate his rifle also has been started.

Saddler Still Champ; 4 Times Enough For Feud With Willie

BY MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK—(P)—Unless they take their act on the wrestling circuit, the Sandy Saddler-Willie Pep featherweight series is over today with slashing Sandy still the champion.

Four times is enough—and to many fans too much—for this furious feud between the ring's best 126-pounders. A battered, bleeding and disgusted Pep quit on his stool after the ninth round at the Polo Grounds last night to give the skinny Harlem Negro a nine-round technical knockout and a 3-1 edge in the series.

It was almost a duplicate of last

Big Test Ahead For Manistique Reserves Friday

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique Reserves, with a one-sided victory over Negaunee and a scoreless tie with Gladstone recorded, will meet their severest test of the season against the powerful Newberry reserves in the Hall stadium Friday night.

The Emeralds seconds, coached by Don Dissinger, have shown both offensive and defensive power in their first two clashes but they will be colliding with a strong reserve eleven when they tackle Newberry. The Luce county team is believed to be one of the strongest reserve outfits in the Great Lakes conference.

Reserve teams in the conference are composed entirely of freshmen and sophomores. In the scoreless tie with Gladstone the Emerald seconds faced a team which also included some juniors and seniors, it is reported.

Personnel of the local seconds follows:

Magic Number Two For Yankees Today

NEW YORK—(P)—The magic number for the New York Yankees to win their third straight pennant today was two. Any combination of two Yankee victories or two Cleveland defeats will mean the flag for the Yanks, who still have five games left to play. The Indians have two.

In the National League, if the Brooklyn Dodgers win three of their remaining games, they're in, even if the Giants win both of theirs. If the Giants lose once, the Brooks only have to break even and if the Giants lost both, the Dodgers need only one victory.

year's battle between the two. That one ended when the one-time great Hartford, Conn., veteran claimed a dislocated shoulder after the seventh round.

Moments Of Brilliance

"My eye is bothering me and I don't want to go on. The pain is killing me."

That's what the ex-champ told Referee Ray Miller after the ninth. Both gladiators had been warned repeatedly by Miller to stop the rough stuff and get back to boxing.

There were moments of boxing brilliance in the bout, however, and Pep actually was leading by a shade on the scorecards of two of the three officials, including the referee's.

But the handwriting was on the wall. Saddler inflicted a deep gash over Willie's right eye at the start of the second and floored him for eight near the end of that frame. Pep's right eye was half closed, he was bleeding from the nose and mouth and his strength seemed gone.

Pep piled up some points of his own with swift combinations of

Central League Picks Officers

Leo Brunelle Is Head Of Circuit

Leo Brunelle of Bark River was elected president of the Central U. P. high school league at the annual fall meeting of the league last night at Rapid River. He succeeds Vic Mankiewicz of Rock as league president.

Other officers elected for the year are Ora Hanson, Nahma, vice president, and Norman Slough, Rapid River, secretary-treasurer.

It was decided to again stage a basketball game between the coaches of league schools and the superintendents and principals. The game will be played at Rapid River on Nov. 8, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the league. A dance will follow the game.

Powers high school informed the league that it will withdraw from the Central U. P. circuit at the conclusion of this scholastic year and will join a league of schools west of Powers. Powers will remain in the Central league this season, however.

The decision of Powers to withdraw from the Central League was prompted by geographical considerations, it was reported.

Members of the league are Rapid River, Cooks, Nahma, Perkins, Rock, Bark River, Trenary and Powers.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Larry Jansen, Giants—hurled his 21st victory, holding the Philadelphia Phillies to nine scattered hits, and keeping the Giants one game ahead from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Batting—Monte Irvin, Giants—came through with a three-run home run in the first inning against the Phillies and added a triple and a double.

Left Half Problem For U.M. And M.S.C.

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (P)—Michigan's rebuilt western conference champions launch their 1951 football campaign here Saturday against the nationally high ranked Spartans of Michigan State College. And the rivals have one mutual problem in particular.

A sellout crowd of 97,239 is assured for the 2 p. m. clash. The visitors have about a one-touchdown edge of favoritism.

Essentially, a big question is which school has been able to replace a graduated left halfback more effectively.

Coach Bennie Osterbaan has converted Junior Wingback Don Oldham to take the place of Chuck Ortmann.

Air Show Certain

MSC Coach Clarence (Biggie) Munn is expected to rely on Don McAuliffe, junior understudy to the great Spartan tailback Everett (Sonny) Grandelius.

The manner in which Oldham and McAuliffe perform may decide the issue.

Both schools field good ends with a strong aerial show almost a certainty. Lowell Perry and Fred Pickard will be out to catch Oldham's tosses as well as the passes of Capt.-Quarterback Bill Putich for the Wolverines.

The Spartan brother combination of Bill and Bob Carey is the prime target for the throwing of Quarterback Al Dorow and McAuliffe.

The Spartans, ranked No. 2 in the nation in the AP pre-season poll, turned in an 8-1 record last year. However, Michigan State was hard put to it to sneak by Oregon State 6-0 in its debut last Saturday. And in an unusual Monday scrimmage, prompted by the poor showing, Munn lost first string defensive tackle Jack Mor-left jabs and hooks and right crosses. But after taking a barrage in the second, Saddler lashed back with jolting left hooks and uppercuts and decked Willie for the only legitimate knockdown of the brawl.

Both boys went down several times, wrapped in each other's arms, and once the referee went down himself as he tried to pry them apart.

Leg Trick Is New

Wily Willie tried something new in the seventh—and lost the round partly because of it. He coiled his right leg around Sandy's left leg and the fighters and the referee all went down.

"I couldn't go on," said Pep after the fight. "The pain was killing me. That Saddler was rougher this time than the last."

"I intended to fight a clean fight," said Saddler, "but he started the rough stuff. I got a little mad when he heeled me and thumbed me in the eye and stepped on my toes."

Both have gotten rich out of the feud. The four fights, one a year since 1948, have grossed close to $600,000.

Last night's show, seen by 13,836 Polo Grounds customers and witnessed by 50,000 others in 17 theaters in 13 cities by closed circuit television, gave Saddler about $61,000, Willie got around $37,000.

The gross gate was only $75,311 but $110,000 was paid for the theatercast and movie rights.

Saddler weighed 125½. Pep 125.

Dodgers Lead With Ace Against Braves To Shake Off Giants

BY ED CORRIGAN

The desperate Brooklyn Dodgers, who have seen their once-mighty 13½ game National league lead dwindle to just one game, go into today's big test against Boston's Braves with Preacher Roe (22-2)—their stopper—on the mound.

The New York Giants, panting down the Brooks' backs in the mad chase for the flag after winning 35 of their last 42 outings, will spend the day watching and waiting. They don't get back into action until Saturday against Boston.

Brooks Have Advantage

Actually, the Brooks are in an advantageous position and the Giants will have to get the breaks to win the bunting. If the Giants win both their two games against the Braves, Charlie Dressen's operatives then will have to win three of their four remaining contests.

Should the Giants falter once, Brooklyn will need only two triumphs. And if the Giants should lose both, the Dodgers will need only one victory.

Dressen is taking no chances on his pitching rotation.

"It's got to be Roe," he said, "for we've got to keep on winning. I'm not expecting anybody to help us by beating the Giants. We've got to help ourselves. Carl Erskine will start for us tomorrow. I don't know who will go Saturday, but it will be Roe again Sunday if we need him."

Newcombe Reliable

Yesterday's 15-5 conquest of the Braves did a lot for the Dodgers, even though the Giants came right back at night and polished off the Philadelphia Phillies with equal emphasis, 10-1. For one thing it indicated the Brooks have not cracked up completely after their double defeat by the Braves Tuesday night.

For another thing, it showed that Don Newcombe, who had been trying to win his 19th game for a long time, again could be trusted with top assignments.

In the American league, the New York Yankees made no progress in their efforts to sew up the flag. They were completely ineffectual against the slants of little Bobby Shantz and dropped a 4-1 decision to the Philadelphia A's.

So the combination still is two for the Yanks—two triumphs or two defeats by the Cleveland Indians, who were idle yesterday. The Yanks have five games left to play and the Indians only two. The Tribe winds up the season's business with single games at home against the Detroit Saturday and Sunday. The Yanks play all five of their against the Boston Red Sox.

Casey Stengel's men have only one worry about the Sox now. With their 7-3 loss at the hands of the Washington Senators last night, the Beantowners can't possibly win the pennant. If they win all six of their remaining games, and the Yanks lose all five of theirs, Steve O'Neill's team will tie.

Boys Come Through

The Giants were on the spot last night. The Dodgers already had won their game, and Leo Durocher knew his hired hands would have to win to stay in the race. They came through nobly behind Larry Jansen, who racked up his 21st victory.

Jansen's task was made easy when his mates presented him with four runs in the first inning, then three more in the third.

Monte Irvin was the big boy in the Giants' attack with a three-run home run in the first, a triple and a double.

Gladstone Goes To Marquette Friday Night

GLADSTONE—Gladstone high school's undefeated and untied Braves travel to Marquette this weekend clashing with the Graverets under the lights on Friday evening.

All of the players came out of the Manistique game in fair shape and physically are in good condition for this week's battle. Halfback Tom Cannon, out for the past two weeks because of injuries sustained in the Munising game, will probably be ready for action again.

Subs See Action

However, it is expected that Norman Beauchamp, sophomore back who turned in a nifty performance at Manistique, will probably get the starting assignment in order to give Canon more time to completely recover.

Two other subs, who were impressive at Manistique, are Guard Jim LaCosse and Tackle Art LaFave. It is likely that they will see more action as the season progresses.

Play on a whole at Manistique was good, although there were letups at times, particularly in the third quarter. Again last weekend, as in the opener, timing was off and a number of potential touchdowns were nullified by backfield in motion penalties.

Practice sessions this week were handicapped by weather but Coach Don Protenhauer is hoping for a change so that he can get in one practice under the lights.

Looks Good On Paper

Marquette, the loser in two starts to date, has a green eleven with only a limited number of lettermen back, and on paper doesn't figure to provide much more than a good workout for the Protenhauer machine. However, playing them on paper is a precarious way of winning ball games and many sure things turn out entirely different than expected.

Rookie Pitcher Fails Tigers

Chance Didn't Work Against Browns

ST. LOUIS—(P)—The Detroit Tigers took a chance on a rookie pitcher last night and it didn't work.

This was all to the benefit of the St. Louis Browns' Ned Garver who trimmed the Tigers 7-1 to post his 19th win of the year.

The Browns got Ned off to a fast start by picking on recruit Dick Marlowe and scoring six runs in the first inning. Marlowe failed to retire the side in his major league debut. He left after five hits and two walks.

Almost Shutout

There's a chance now that Garver will do the remarkable stunt of winning 20 games for a last place team. He'll pitch for the tail-end Browns against the Chicago White Sox in the season finale Sunday.

Last night Garver would have had a shutout except for Vic Wertz's walk, Johnny Groth's single and Frank House' double in the sixth inning.

Otherwise Garver was safe. He allowed only seven hits and got first rate support in the field. The loss snapped Detroit's winning streak at four games.

The Browns lost no time in picking on young Marlowe.

Before the 22-year-old right-hander from Toledo was waved to the bench, he had allowed two walks, two doubles, three singles and a double steal.

Hutch Nominated

Gene Bearden relieved Marlowe and stayed around until the sixth when he left for a pinch-hitter. Rookie Wayne McLeland finished, pitching scoreless three innings.

Detroit will try to take the odd game of the series today behind Freddie Hutchinson. Hutch seeks his 11th win against nine losses.

The Browns' first inning assault on Marlowe was heavy.

Bobby Brown walked, Cliff Mages and Bob Nieman doubled, and three singles and a walk and the double steal followed. Marlowe departed with two men out.

Nieman, the Browns' rookie sensation, got four-for-five for the night. St. Louis collected 16 hits in all.

Los Angeles Rams Fines Rescinded; Boy Out Too Late

LOS ANGELES—(P)—The $7,900-wholesale fine of 28 players on the Los Angeles Rams football squad was rescinded yesterday by head coach Joe Stydahar.

Thus 26 players will not have $300 docked from their first game pay checks nor will two others be out $50.

Stydahar said he had discovered that many people had construed the size of the fines far out of proportion to the violations of regulations.

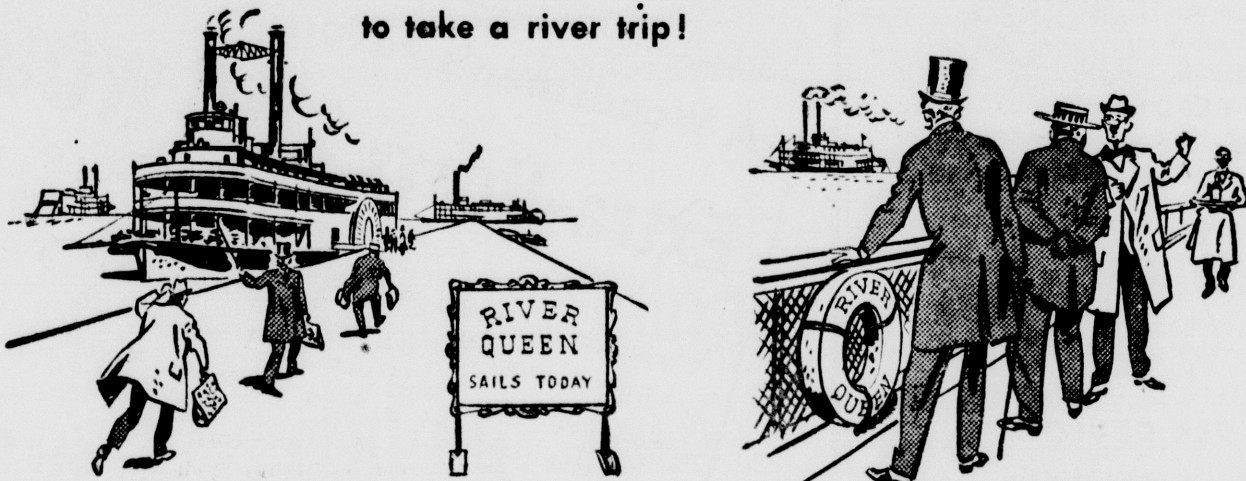

Nobody did anything, Big Joe said, except stay out too long after the curfew hour. It was earlier this month after the Rams had beaten the Philadelphia Eagles in an exhibition game.

"In order to clear up the entire matter and erase any questions surrounding the good character of our players, which is beyond reproach, I have rescinded the fines," Stydahar declared.

Bobby Jones, five-time winner of the US amateur crown, was recently elected captain of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrew's, Scotland.

You save time when you call by number

You'll save yourself time, these busy days, by keeping a list of the numbers of the out-of-town telephones you call most often.

When you call by number, the Long Distance operator doesn't have to take the time to get the number from Information so your call goes through faster.

That means better service for you—and better service for all America, right now when telephone lines are carrying urgent industrial and military calls.

P. S. When you don't know the out-of-town number, why not jot it down when the operator gets it for you. That way you'll have it handy the next time you call.

1,900 Freshmen Are Enrolled At U. Of Michigan

Approximately 1,900 freshmen are starting their first week of classes at the University of Michigan. The fall semester, which opened Sept. 24, will continue until Feb. 9.

Their introduction to the classroom followed a week-long orientation program designed to acquaint new students with the campus and to assist them through the routine of physical examinations, aptitude tests and registration.

The newcomers were welcomed by President Harlan H. Hatcher, who is starting his first year as the university's leader. He greeted them as "fellow freshmen" and offered two bits of advice, that they never let a week go past without keeping abreast of their classroom assignments and that they write regularly to their parents who have sacrificed to make their education possible.

Throughout the week, the freshmen traveled in small groups with student leaders who helped them become acquainted with the various campus buildings as well as to show how to become familiar with the host of campus student activities.

The students from this area: Munising: Frances Mary Madigan, 203 W. Onota, entering College of Literature, Science and the Arts.

Escanaba: Entering College of Literature, Science and the Arts: Mary Sue Fleming, 615 Ogden
